CONTENT VENDORS

FAQ's

Q: Is Litmos SCORM certified? Can we make sure customers are compliant in the current version of our published content?

A: Litmos is SCORM certified and is very popular with our customer base. Course deployment can be done rapidly, and as updates are made those courses can be reassigned to learners automatically to ensure they are in synch with any changes.

Q: Does Litmos allow for collaborative course authoring among employees? Can we collect feedback from employees on the content?

A: Litmos allows multiple admins access to courses for collaboration. There is a feedback button within each course for employees to provide input and the survey module can collect specific feedback.

Q: Can we provide a custom experience to each client organization that purchases our content?

A: Yes, you can segment each client within Litmos's team function and provide specific courses and learning paths to create a unique experience for each.

Q: Can we sell course subscriptions through Litmos? Can our channel partners create and sell training on our Litmos account?

A: Litmos's integration with Shopify allows you to sell course subscriptions and segment your partners to provide a unique experience to each. You can give users within each channel partner groups specific rights including creating and editing content.
